MOREAU HIGH SCHOOL
HAYWARD, CALIFORNIA
VOLUME 20

ore than ever before, Moreau is now recognized as the exemplary school that it is. This year we received an award which announced that fact to the rest of the world. The Top 60 Exemplary Schools Award was received by our principal, Brother Joseph Connell, this summer in Washington D.C. He later disclosed that such an honor is a definite highlight of his career in education.

The process of deciding the “exemplary” schools was a long and grueling one. However, after their initial screenings and careful comparison to each other, the applicant schools were visited by a committee from the Project. This “site visit” culminated the Project’s search.

There is an important realization that this award must bring to our school: the faculty alone did not win it; neither did the students alone win it; together as a community we all won it. Everyone contributed to our success in this competition and the entire community should be proud.

This year some events at Moreau highlighted the involvement of the Moreau Community. A few of the events were ...

This years Spirit Week competition was one of the very best. All of the classes put up an excellent fight, but again it was the Seniors who prevailed, taking first overall. The sophomores were close behind taking second, the Juniors third, and the Freshmen fourth.

College Night this year had one of the biggest turnouts in recent years. Seniors, and some juniors went to hear speakers from colleges all over the state. It was, to say the least, informative. Each student who attended heard speakers from St. Mary's, U.C. Santa Clara and a speaker from the whole U.C. system.

This year the Freshmen barbeque, which was presented by the administration, was an excellent way in which the Freshmen could become better acquainted with each other. Mark Harper, the spirit coordinator, said, "The Freshmen seemed to have a great time eating hamburgers, and enjoying the day."

These events, aside from many others, make the Moreau community what it is. (Mike)

The variety of dances presented by Moreau's student body usually creates a fun time to be had by all.

The memories for each person may be different, but we all share some of the same. The Welcome Dance introduces you to the new people and starts the new year off with a bang!

The same is true with the Freshmen Box Social. This is sometimes a frightening experience and other times an exciting new beginning. It gives the Freshmen a chance to meet the people in their class and get to know one in particular.

At the Halloween Dance, we take on many character changes. Dressing up makes things more interesting.

Moreau takes pride in providing fun and we all seem to appreciate it.

During the 1984-85 school year the Campus Ministry Department has become more visible than ever before. At the beginning of the year they published an introductory booklet in order to familiarize the students with the main ministry leaders; Mr. Wally Mikula is the Director of Campus Ministry; Mr. Michael Schwickert-Stary directs the Christian Community Service Program and has become a familiar face to most seniors; Father Rusty Shaughnessy OFM, our regularly visiting priest, has led our school masses and helped on the retreats.

The Theology of Ministry is a small religion class which teaches leadership skills and spreads God's word through retreats, mission collections, and such after school discussion and activity groups as Ekklesia and Koinonia (at Cal States Campus Ministry Center). The class also publishes a quarterly news letter to keep the students informed.

This year's Jazz Band, made up of 19 musicians, is under the direction of Dale Wolford for the second year. The Jazz Band remained largely the same. This year the Jazz Band performed at the Brother Gary Stone Golf Tournament at Sunol Country Club, California Music Educator's Jazz Festival at Diablo Valley College, a concert with the Chabot College Jazz Ensemble, a concert with other high school music groups at the Hayward Education Fund luncheon as well as 3 concerts at Moreau with the symphonic band.

The Symphonic Band, under the second year of the direction of Dale Wolford, had a very exciting year. The Symphonic band performed at the Christmas concert in December, the Champagne concert in March (having the theme of "Looney Tunes"), and the Spring concert in May. The Symphonic band attended many California Music Educators Association (C.M.E.A.) festivals. At these festivals, the band was judged in the areas of concert performance and sight reading. The band also went to Sacramento and competed in a two-day festival in which bands from all over California competed.

Some of the pieces performed this year were "The Thunderer", "Holiday Festival Overture", "Instant Concert", "Looney Tunes Overture", and "Northwest Suite".

This years seniors include: Alto Craig Dunlap, Percussion: Janine Marinn, Lisa Quintana, Siobhan Moroney, Flute: Randy Rusk, Clarinet: Helen Sheridan, Trumpet: Ricky Valenzuela and Carl Soria and Baritone George Watters.

From three weeks before school to November 17th, the Moreau marching band worked long and hard hours to become a powerful force in Bay-Area band Competitions.

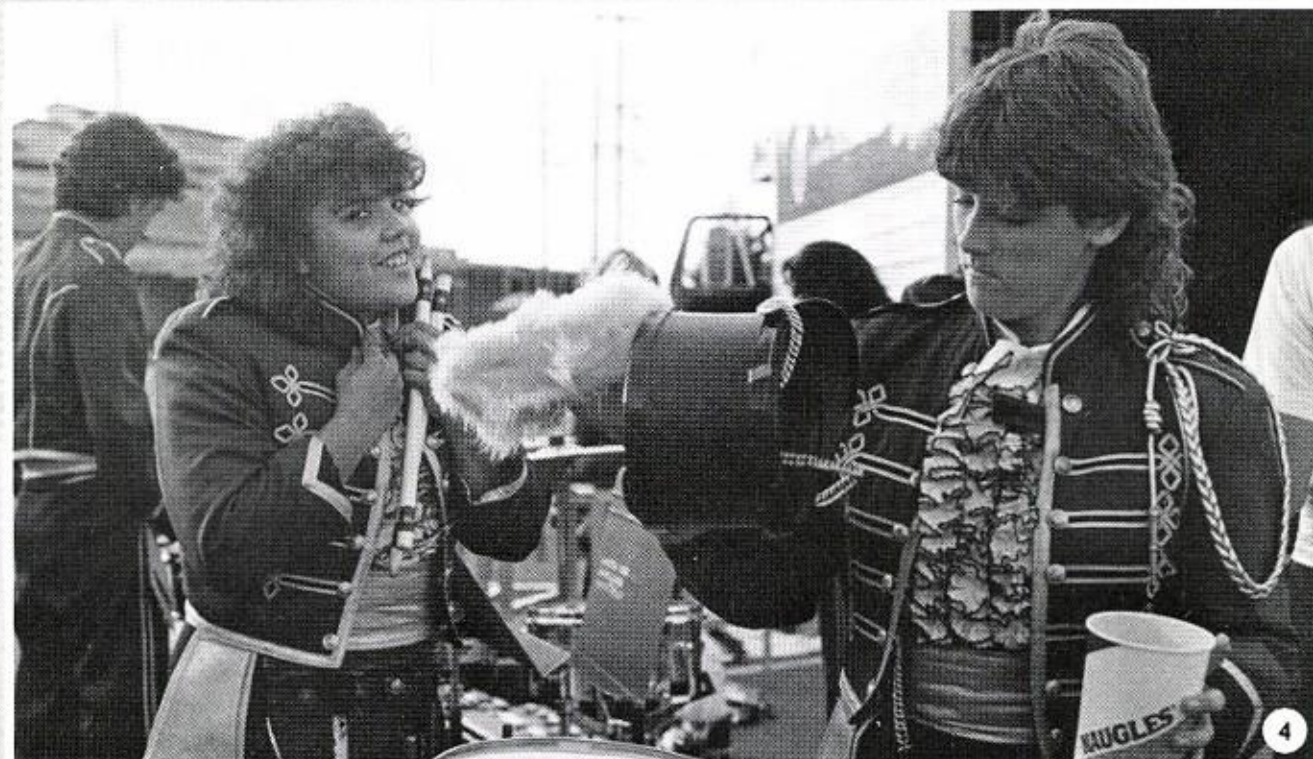

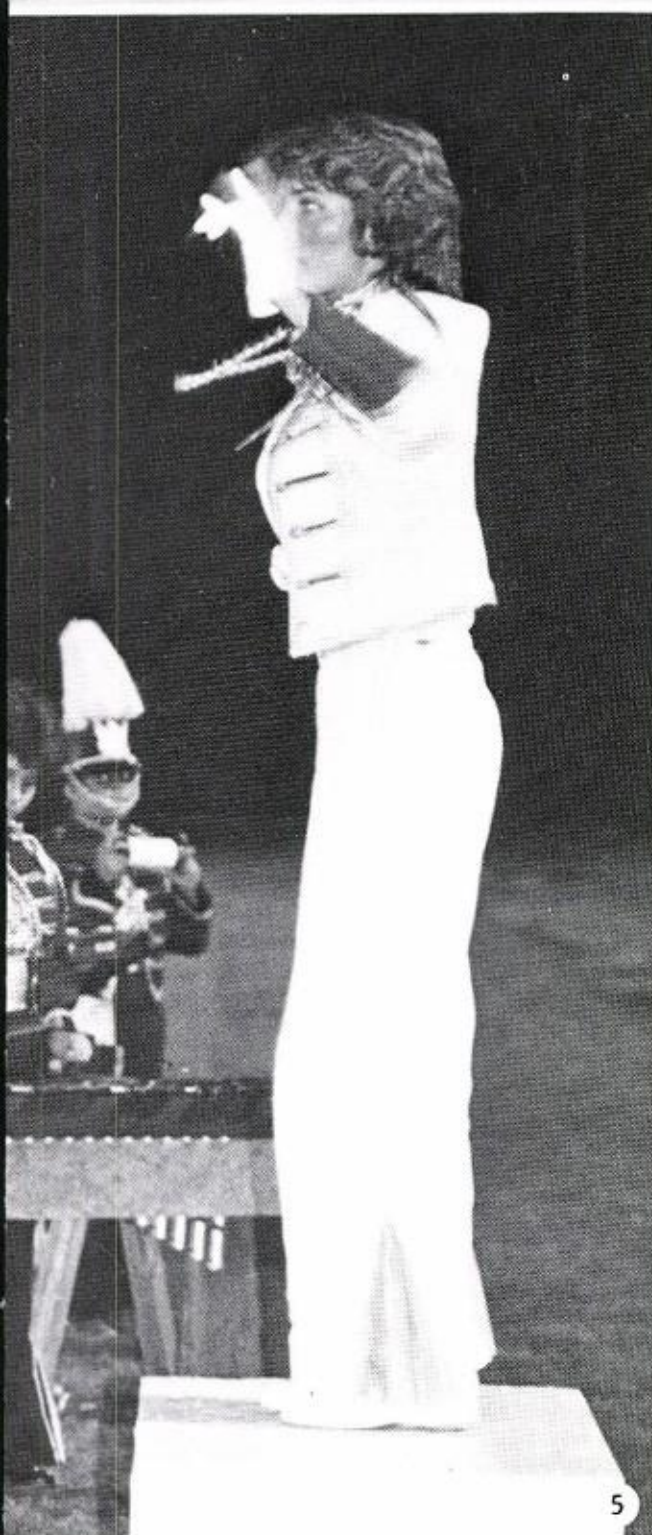

The band did very well in most and even took first place in one. After watching several of their practices and talking with a few of the band members I can appreciate how hard they worked.

When asked if the size of the band was a hindrance or a benefit Drum-Major Tina Canalis said "Well, I really think they do a great job. The size doesn't matter." I also asked her what she thought about the different sections of the band. "The drum line has a really hard job to do and they do it excellently." I asked her if she felt there were enough people in the brass section and she said "The brass do a very good job and are plenty loud, Oh! the woodwin are outstanding also."

Over all the band was superb this year with all the inventive new material and new visual performances. Like the drum solo song with the flying banners as visual backup. As Randy Cariveau said when I asked him about the bit "It's hecka bad". I could not have said it better myself, Marching Band, your "Hecka bad".

The 1984 Homecoming was full of excitement. On Friday November 9th, the surprised representatives from all of the classes were announced.

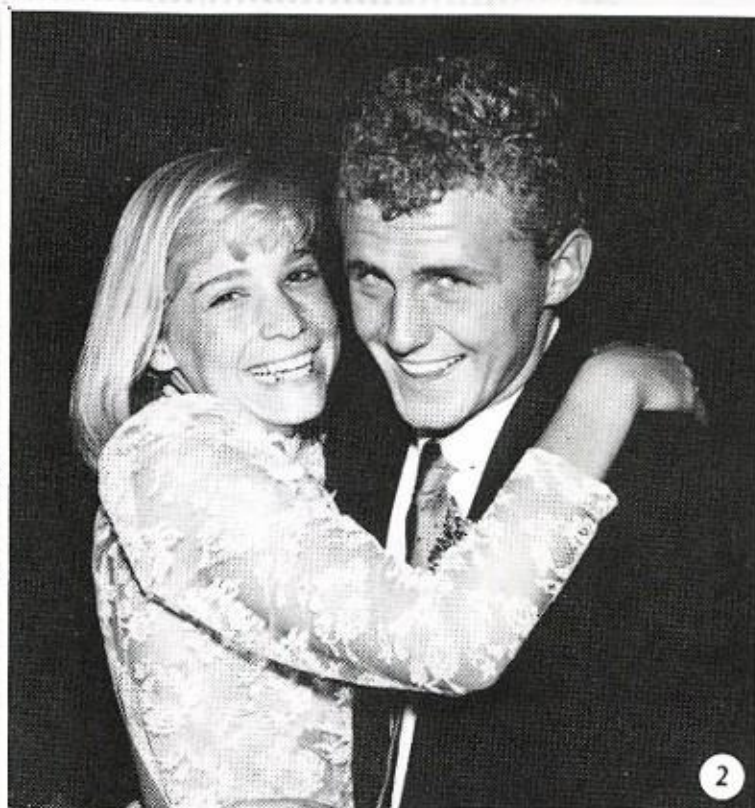

The princess and escort of the freshman class were Kelli Warner and David Liebowitz. Bob Robello and Lisa Assum were elected by the Sophomore class. The Junior class' Princess and Escort were Kim Roman and Jeff Marshal. Erin Willett was Honored as one of the senior princesses and Escorted by Joe Baalman. Elaine Clancy was the other Princess escorted by Bob Canalas. The 1984 Homecoming King and Queen were Mike Salido and Clarisse Carbonel.

During the halftime festivities of the Homecoming football Game, the King, Queen and Court entered in antique cars and were introduced to the crowd.

Saturday at the Homecoming Dance the King and Queen (Mike Salido and Clarisse Carbonel) reigned over the court. It was a gala affair.

The 1984 Spirit Week was one to remember. Too cliché you say? Well take into account the vast and various amount of spirit that was displayed. It did not matter if it was the Sophomore Supermarket or the Senior Storybook, what did matter was that a good time was shared by all classes. It really didn't matter who won, but if you must know, the Seniors won Spirit Week but lost the coveted spirit stick to the hungry Juniors. The week in general was a close fight to the end. From the halls to the games to the spirit competition, the judges had to make a choice. And this year's choice was different than that of recent years, it was the first time in a long while that the Senior class lost the spirit stick. Some Seniors say that they threw it, I wonder ...

"Martin Vanderhof's house is just around the corner from Columbia University, NY, but don't go looking for it. The room seen is what is customarily described as a living room, but in this house the term is something of an understatement. The every-man-for-himself room would be more like it. For here meals are eaten, plays are written, snakes collected, ballet steps practiced, xylophones played, printing presses operated — if there were room enough there would probably be ice skating. In short, the brook presided over by Martin Vanderhof goes on about living in the fullest sense of the word. From Grandpa Vanderhof down, they are individualists. This is a house where you do as you like, and no questions asked."

You Can't Take It With

This is the setting for Moreau's 1984 Fall Drama, "You Can't Take it with You," written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The "every-man-for-himself room" also almost becomes the setting for the breakup for the romance of one of Mr. Vanderhof's granddaughters, because of severe differences between the two families. By the end of the play, however, all involved have learned a valuable lesson: You can't take it with you. "You Can't Take it with You" was directed by Arlene Hood, with student director Kim Krupka, and costumes by Valerie Ragland. Moreau's 1985 Spring Musical was "Once Upon a Mattress," also directed by Arlene Hood.

Arlene Hood, the director of Moreau's production of "You Can't Take it with You", has been involved in drama since she was a teenager, appearing in productions at her high school and at the Hayward Little Theatre. Arlene attended Cal State Hayward as an Acting/Directing major, and earned a Bachelor of the Arts degree in Theatre Arts. She has been directing plays since 1979, when she directed her first full-length play, "My Three Angels," at Cal State. In addition to directing at Cal State and the Hayward Little Theatre, Arlene has served as the Program Director at Children's Fairyland, has directed small television productions and has directed plays for Moreau. In early 1985 she acted in and was the assistant director for "The Wiz" at Cal State. "You Can't Take it with You" was Arlene's first production at Moreau.

The Drama Club encourages "Moreauthespians to come out of the closet!" These are the words of Drama Club President Kim Krupka. The Moreau Drama Club was founded in 1984, and is still going strong in its second year. The club enables students to work on acting and performing skills by allowing them first hand experience. Aside from improvisations and working on acting skills, club members attend plays and explore the many variations of theatre.

The Drama Club honors students displaying exceptional skills in drama with a block M. The Block M program for Drama is something new at Moreau. In the words of Block M coordinator Erika Baerwald, "Originally Block letters were offered only for athletic achievement. However, after many compromises, Drama Club members are eligible for the "M". The Drama Block System is based on points, which are earned through play participation, meeting attendance, and other club activities. As of January 1985, three Drama Club members, Kim Krupka, Erika Baerwald, and John Weaver, have earned a Block M in Drama.

The Ski Club, moderated by Glenn Watson, had a very "funfilled" and "exciting" year even though they got off to a fairly slow start. The club's first trip to Squaw Valley was not as good as was expected, but the second trip to Kirkwood was excellent. The club is planning at least one more trip, and if things go as planned, it should be a very nice trip.

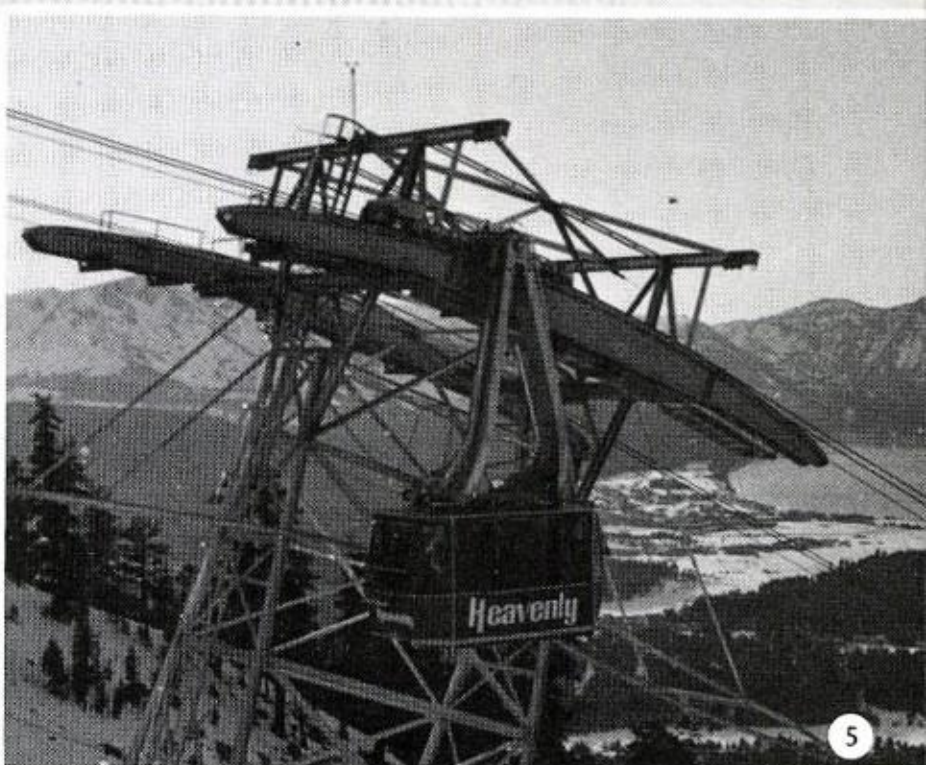

The Bike Club also had a very exciting year, led by moderator Larry Long. They had some really great trips to San Francisco where they went to the zoo and Golden Gate Park. The club is also planning a trip to Coyote Hills, which should be another exciting trip. (Mike)

One of Moreau's newest clubs is also the fastest growing. Started this year and headed by Mr. Showers the Racquetball Club is a "smashing" success. The whole club consists of 8 Seniors, 5 juniors, 2 sophomores and 7 freshmen. This group was off to a definitely good start! They play after school on Tuesday's at Jardines Health Club in Hayward. The best thing one member commented about the club was all the friends she had made this year through the club. The Racquetball Club is an interesting way to have some fun and good exercise at the same time.

During the past years at Moreau, both of these varsity squads have been good, and this year is no different. During summer camp, the cheerleaders received the superior trophies all around. They also received the coveted unity award, which was given to them by a vote from all the other attending schools. The song-girls placed first in the competitive Omega Kick-Off Rally for the first time. The Cheerleaders, although being a young squad, placed second. Once again at this competition, Moreau as a community received the spirit award. All of this would never have been possible without the dedication and hard work which these girls put in day after day.

The Future Talent Of Moreau

"This is an excellent squad which will be the pride of Moreau in years to come", Mrs. Moran said about this years JV squad. They work very hard everyday after school and they deserve every honor they get.

Considering that the Freshman squad is the youngest squad at Moreau, they have succeeded in calling attention to themselves by their eagerness and enthusiasm.

The 1984-85 Freshman squad includes: Carrie Frates (head), Tami Pina, Karen Rich, Grainne Sweetman, Chantel Medeiros, Kristen Russo, Trish Boyle, Deanne Criste, Kelly Warner and Michelle Assum.

All the members of both squads will be tough competitors as they move up to the Varsity and JV squads next year.

Unique in their own way, Block M letter men and women give their input through their athletic abilities. Being athletes they realize the importance of support of fans in any competition and does the Pep Club. They acknowledge that support in the game is only second most to winning it. Headed by Mr. Morneau both clubs are running strong and he hopes some of their enthusiasm will rub off on the rest of the student body.

The blood drive (opposite page) and R. O. C. may on the outside appear to be two different subjects but are very closely related. Giving blood can one day save the life of someone you may or may not know, and R. O. C. is pumping new blood into the work force of America. The blood drive has attracted some celebrity types to Moreau such as Nurse Kellye of M★A★S★H★. She showed us that she cared by helping out in the October blood drive. R. O. C. has helped young adults to learn the trade and in turn they are helping America become great.

The Computer Club at Moreau has had a successful year under the guidance of Mrs. Nichols. The members spend many hours on the keyboards participating in various activities. These include such things as a beginners workshop; for some background about computers before they go into things like game competitions, graphics contest, and computer game sessions on Friday afternoons after school. As one member added that the computer is the future for the world. People had better learn now what is what or be left behind later.

The Moreau "Knights" Chess Club has likewise had an exciting and very active year. Under the leadership of Mr. McEntee and assisted by Mr. Breiger and Mr. Weidmayer, the clubs president Rick Gomez, Vice-President Mike Franzwa and Treasurer Serga Zanderey all agree that the club meets many of its goals that it set for itself. The club usually meets weekly to challenge each other and go over some tough situations a player might encounter in a game. The main purpose of the club is to promote a greater interest in chess and to create a high standard of fellowship.

The 1985 yearbook's theme is a direct result of the continuous changes taking place at Moreau High School. The expanded counseling on the third floor premiered this year along with the new tardy policy. The Christian Community Service project continued for the second year and Moreau was honored with an "Exemplary School" award.

Strategies

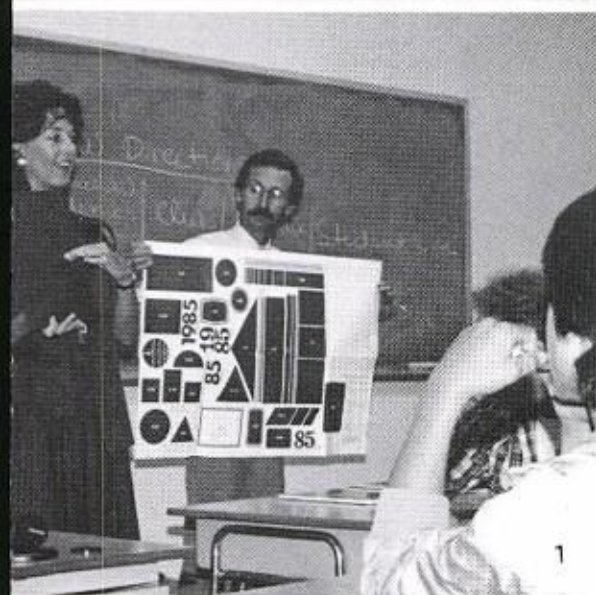

Changes are obviously occurring!

Changes have occurred within the yearbook itself. Returning Moderator, Suzanne Higgins has employed the use of student photographers and writers not on the yearbook staff as well as the student editor Darla Barlow and classmates Chris Madsen and John Weaver who are guiding this year's production with their knowledge from last year. Once again the company producing the yearbook will be Josten's — the same company which produces the school's rings.

This years newspaper has changed quite a bit. Headed by newcomer Marek Brieger, and two large classes, this years newspaper was able to get much work done and much covered. The newspaper has also taken on a new face. Editor in Chief, Len Konecny, was quoted as saying "We've tried things other newspapers in years past only wish they could have tried." This couldn't be closer to the truth, this newspaper brought about the photo essay which received the highest appraisal. The newspaper still has some of last years paper, and more in part by Mr. Robert McEtee, who was last years moderator. In my opinion, this is the best newspaper in recent years.

Moreau's chapter of the California Scholarship Federation has been an active part of the Moreau Community for the last 6 Years. During The fall semester of the 1984-85 school year, CSF had a total membership of 145 students, composed of 60 seniors and 85 juniors. Once again, the CSF tutoring program gave the club members an opportunity to help their fellow students. The Chapter also sponsored a field trip to U.C. Davis during this semester.

Learning through doing, Moreau's Interact club is a group of special individuals who take their skills and abilities and spread them out into the community.

Under the leadership of Mr. Peabody, Interact demonstrates the true spirit of Moreau's philosophies as they work towards improving social conditions and give to others the most precious gift of their time.

Each Interact Club is self-governing and self-supporting, though it follows the by-laws of the International Interact club, which provides advisors and works with others to whom the club has obligations involving school, organizations and authorities. This year, the club has participated in two major service projects.

Through a carnival and craft fair boutique, they assisted the "Make a Wish" organization, which is a group who grants final wishes to terminally ill children.

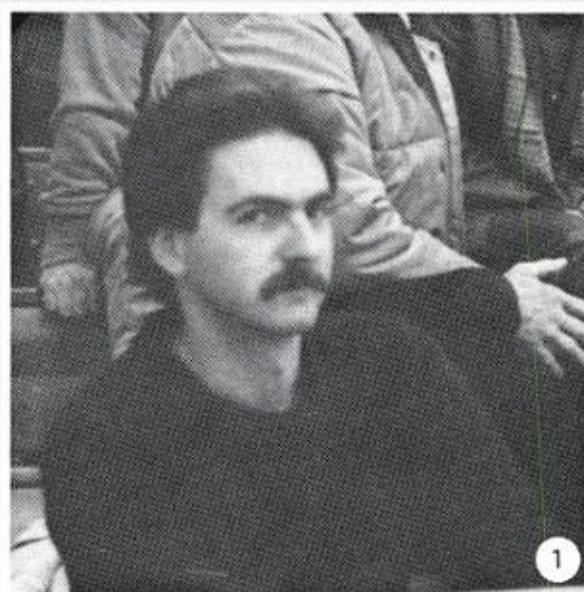

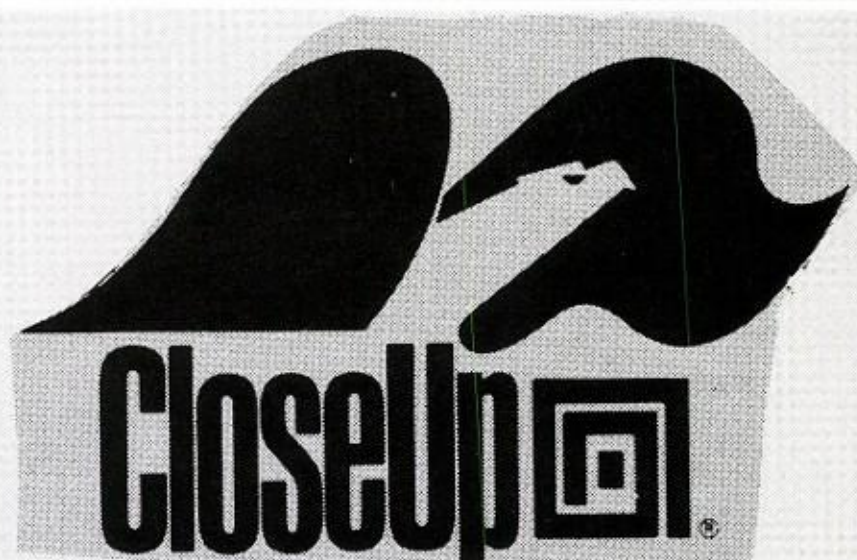

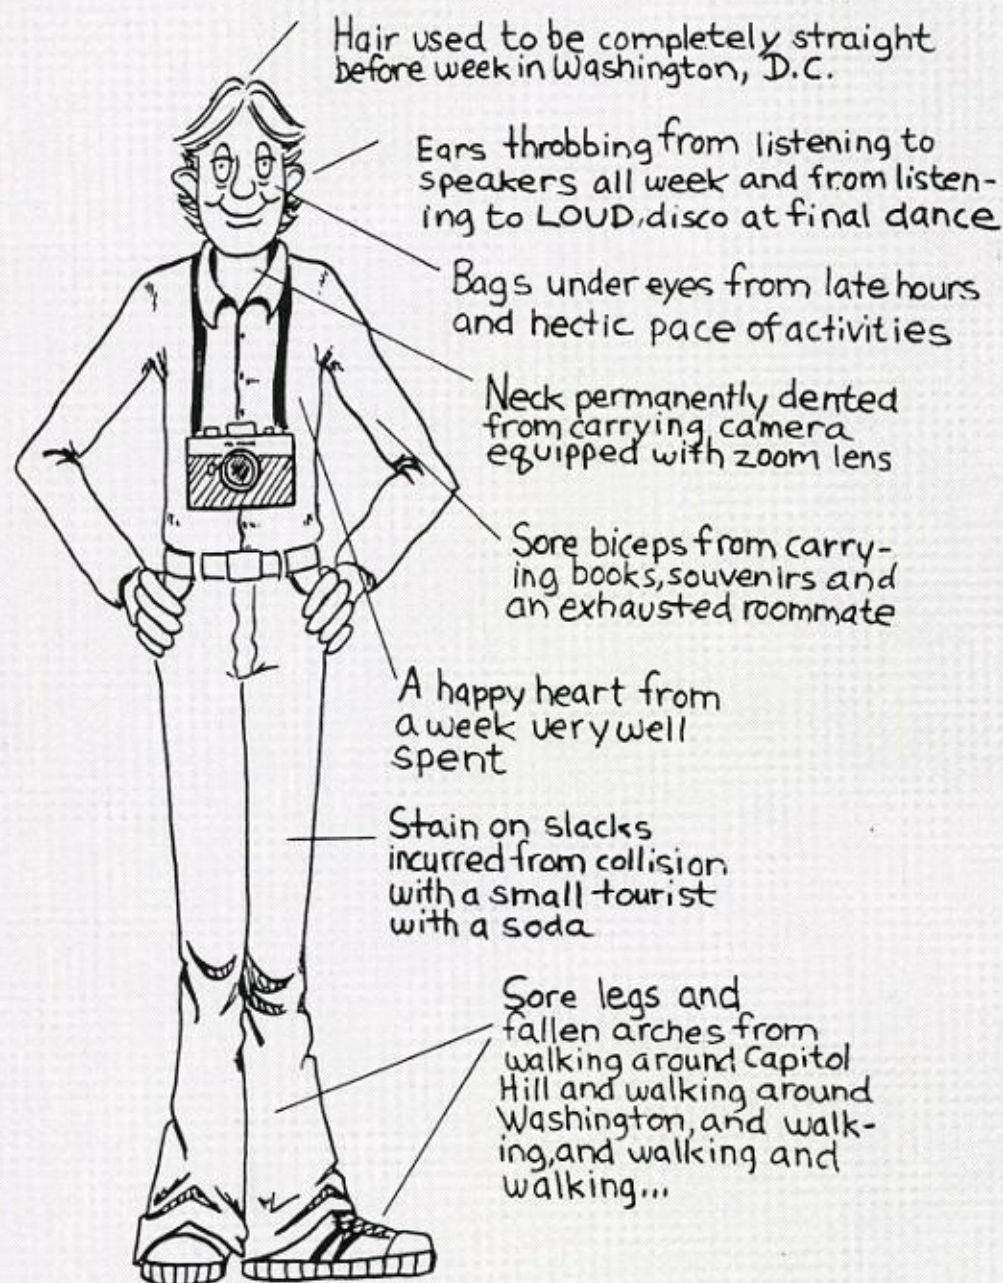

They also sponsored a fingerprinting day at Moreau. With the help of "Protect Your Child", Moreau was able to open the school to finger print children.

Mr. Maxwell dreams of climbing Capitol Hill.

Close-Up

This year's Close-Up participants, accompanied to Washington, D.C. by Mr. Jim Maxwell in February, got the chance to watch the government being run, "up close." They were able to visit the historic sights of the Nation's Capitol, such as the Capitol Building, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Washington Monument. Participants were able to learn how our government is run by hearing speakers at the Pentagon and other government buildings. They heard speakers talking about defense, foreign relations, education, the press, and many other subjects. They were also able to talk with Congressman Pete Stark. Close-Up participants had long days, but got many rewards, such as a trip to a dinner theatre, a free day, and a goodbye dance. (John)

This year the Christmas ball had the appropriate theme of A Candy Cane Christmas. The music presented by the Quake was much to the liking of everyone. This is a very festive time of year and everyone seemed to have been in the Christmas spirit. The tradition of Moreau's dances certainly held true the evening of December 20 at the Scottish Rite Ball Room in Oakland on the Shores of Lake Merrit.

hyped-up and ready to go!

This year's 1985 Annual Powder Puff Football Game was an upsetting loss for the Juniors, with a score of 30-6 in the final quarter. During the pre-game rally, activity commissioner Mark Harper asked the classes, "Who is going to win tonight's game?" The outstanding answer was the 'JUNIORS'.

Going into the game, both classes were set out and determined to win. Shannon Galloway scored 3 touchdowns for the Seniors and gained many yards rushing. Senior, Stephanie Meneze also contributed with two touchdowns and one that was called back for clipping. The Seniors played an intense game and the juniors put up a good fight. The Junior Express had Stacy Pierce score their only touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Junior team has high potential but the Senior Silver and Black Attack was back with one year experience and ready.

1985 MYSTERY FAVORITES

"In 1884, a wealthy widow named Sarah L. Winchester began a construction project of such magnitude that it was to occupy the lives of carpenters and craftsman until her death thirty-eight years later. The Victorian mansion designed and built by the Winchester rifle heirless, is filled with so many unexplained oddities, that it has come to be known as the Winchester Mystery House."

The Senior favorites of 1985 got to experience some of this mystery as they ventured out to San Jose with the Voyager staff. There were many unexplained oddities during the day long trip. For example, is Perry Knowlton really that nuts? is Chad Nightingale really that smart?, is Debbie Bosso really that intellectual?, and most importantly, can Mr. Peabody really drive?!

All in all the day seemed to be filled with fun and excitement. When people were heading back to the bus for the trip to Moreau, they were still in amazement and wonderment about the likes of the house. Mark Harper was heard to say "where was the john in that house?" (Chris)

Mark Harper shows us his awesome Jimi Hendrix shirt.

Moving Up

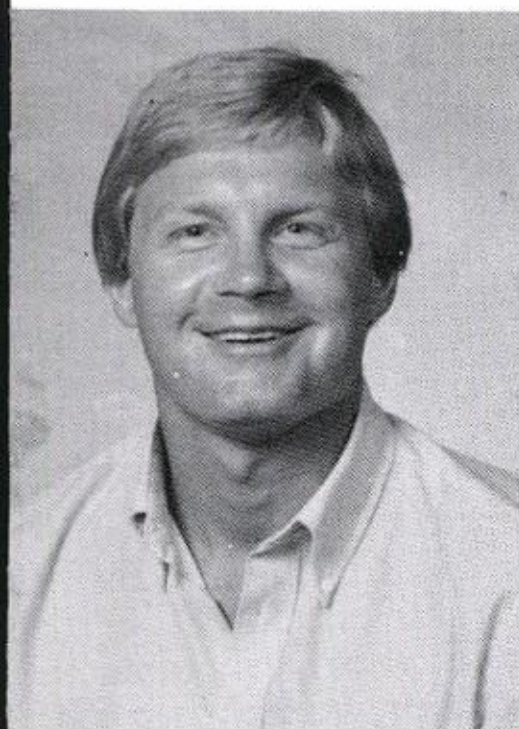

"They got the look you should know better." This year's new Career Center and Guidance Resource Center are located on the third floor. It has expanded from small crowded rooms to a nice spacious center. The atmosphere is looser than has been in the past. You can relax and enjoy the time you spend talking to a counselor or looking up the college of your choice. The best part of the new center is the lack of confusion the smaller rooms used to have. This new center, located where the Brothers used to live, is a great step in a learning direction. (Chris)

Pre-season play was good for the all-new Mariner boys Freshmen basketball team. Robert Alvarado one of the team's foremost players, who benefited the team with 115 points in pre-season play, commented that, "the best thing about the teams first year is that they have a great foundation in which to grow on in the next four years. Overall the team is really together. Most of their winning came from their spirit. The team's moral was high and so was their team commaradery.

Coach McMillan believes that working with his player on a one to one basis is important, just as important as it is for them to learn to work with each other as a team. That is what the word team stands for ... TOGETHER.

I lived in a world
 That was my own silent film
 a private hell
 where wheels spinned continuously in the mind

Everything was simple then emotions were only sidekicks of the seriousness
 I wasn't happy — wasn't sad
 — or really much of anything

I just lived as it was dictated never bothering to ask why then, You came into my life.
 and everything that was black and white
 ... suddenly turned grey ...

OUT OF CHAOS . . .

We all have our own strategies to get through life. The yearbook class chose Strategies as the theme for this book because we hope that contained in these pages are pictures and stories of what we've accomplished by using our strategies to survive our years at Moreau.

For the seniors, this is our last yearbook. When we entered Moreau as Freshmen we learned our way around. We planned our strategies for our classes and for making friends. We failed and succeeded. We learned the good strategies and the bad ones.

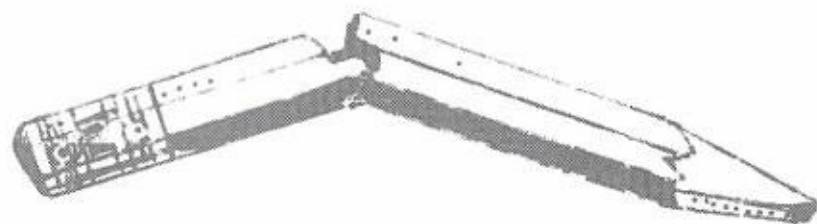

When we became sophomores, we used what we learned as Freshmen to be more successful as sophomores. Sophomore year is a tough one for everyone but once we got past the rigid rules we could become upperclassmen.

Junior year, we were able to relax socially because we knew many people in the school but our classes got harder and keeping-up was tough - but worth it - to become a Senior.

Senior year - a year for fun and excitement. We made the decision whether or not to attend college. We had the choice to relax or push to the maximum. As time grew closer, our diploma came secondary to the friendships we shared. This made us anxious yet afraid of the real world.

Once you're out of school you can use the strategies that you've learned to survive in the world. The yearbook class hopes that these pages will provide memories of the strategies that we used throughout our years at Moreau. We hope that you keep this book to look back as you go through life and remember your friends, teachers and times.
